PREFACE.

For the delay incident to the issuing of this Directory, the Publisher feels called upon to make some explanation. Upon him, and him alone, has devolved the entire labor of collecting and classifying the names, and other information found in this volume. This has been both an advantage and a disadvantage. Had others been employed to assist him, the work would have been completed in less time, but not so accurately, since a careless assistant, working only for his wages, might, and doubtless would, have committed a multitude of blunders, which no one could discover until the book was published, when it would have been too late to rectify them. On the other hand, if the Publisher did all the work himself, it would necessitate a considerable delay in publishing the book. Deeming accuracy the main thing to be sought after, however, he chose the latter alternative—hence, the delay.

Just as the work was approaching completion, the fire on Mulberry street occurred, and by compelling many business men to change their location, necessitated a further delay, in order to give both those who were driven elsewhere by the fire, and those who came into the new buildings which were immediately erected upon the ruins of the old, a place in the book. Another cause of delay arose from the peculiarities of our colored citizens, who, naturally suspicious, persisted in mistaking the Publisher for a tax-gatherer, and by every means in their power endeavored to mislead him as to their names and places of residence. In spite of these numerous difficulties, however, the book will be found exceptionally accurate, and the Publisher takes pride in presenting it to his patrons as his first effort, in hopes that it will not be the last of its kind.

The work was printed and bound in this city, by the Transylvania Printing and Publishing Company, and at lower rates than could be obtained, after repeated efforts, either in Cincinnati or Louisville. This reflects great credit upon that establishment, it being the first Directory ever printed and bound in this city, to his knowledge.

In conclusion, he desires to return thanks to the citizens of Lexington, and the press generally, for their patronage and encouragement. To the officers of the Transylvania Printing and Publishing Company, Lexington Daily Press, and Lexington Dispatch, he is especially indebted for many courtesies.

According to the multiple generally used by Publishers, the City of Lexington has a population of 24,260.

That the book, as published, will meet with the general approbation of his friends and the public, is the earnest desire and hope of

THE PUBLISHER.

ST. CATHARINE'S ACADEMY

LEXINGTON, KY.,

Is conducted by the SISTERS OF NAZARETH, the building is spacious and commodious, suited to the educational requirements of the day, and furnished with modern improvements—having a bath room attached to the sleeping departments, etc. Improvements will be made this vacation for the further comfort and pleasure of the pupils.

Though the academy is in the city, it is very secluded, with ample ground for recreation, as it extends the whole length of the square. The routine of instruction combines the solidity of scientific and literary pursuits. Pupils of all denominations are received, and for the sake of order, they are merely required to attend the public religious exercises with the members of the institution. A Parochial School is taught by some of the Sisters of the same order, but it has no connection with the Academy, not being even on the same street.

Some persons have been misinformed with regard to the Parochial School; they have been led to believe it is under the same roof with the Academy, whereas it is entirely distinct. The Academy is a select boarding school for young ladies.

The SCHOLASTIC YEAR is divided into two sessions of five months each, the first commencing the first Monday in September, and the second the first of February.

No deduction is made for withdrawing pupils before the end of the session unless in case of sickness.

VISITS are not allowed unless with the express wish of parents and guardians.

This Institution, established in 1856, has been reorganized as a Select School for a limited number of young ladies. The retired situation of the grounds and buildings, and the proverbial healthfulness of the place, make it a desirable residence for girls that cannot be educated at home.

Our Annual Session begins about the middle of September and closes in June. Exercises suspended only for one week at Christmas.
